If you use Google Analytics, Google Ads, Meta Pixel, or similar tools, list them here specifically and link to their opt-out mechanisms — this is typically required by those providers' terms of service.

Depending on your state of residence, you may have rights regarding your personal information, which can include the right to request access to, correction of, or deletion of the personal information we hold about you, and the right to opt out of certain uses of your information.

To exercise any of these rights, contact us using the information in Section 10. We will respond in accordance with applicable law.

Note: Comprehensive state privacy laws (like California's CCPA/CPRA) generally only apply to businesses meeting certain size or revenue thresholds. If TAC-P grows, is acquired, or begins processing large volumes of consumer data, revisit this section with an attorney to confirm which state-specific rights language applies.
